LEGAL CONTEXT OF APPLICATIONS TO ESTABLISH TIME AND PLACE OF BIRTH

The first Act pertaining to Applications to Establish Time and Place of Birth was approved February 19, 1941, as Chapter 24, Acts 1941. A copy of this Act is attached hereto, made a part hereof, and marked Exhibit A.

There were changes made in 1943 by Chapter 218, Act 1943. This latter Act made some changes and repealed the former Act. The 1943 Act is attached hereto, made a part hereof, and marked Exhibit B.

The basic legislation enacted in 1943 is still in effect as I.C. 34-4-3-1--12. Section 10 (a) has been added by a subsequent law. The current legislation is attached hereto, made a part hereof, and marked Exhibit C.

I have not done any legislative history research as to these Acts but am reasonably sure that they were enacted in response to the federal registration that required aliens to register during World War II. Many people would not have had birth certificates to establish the time and place of their birth. Therefore, this procedure was enacted to provide a means that this could be done. It is also possible that Social Security requirements played a part in the matter. They also required that age and place of birth be established.

I suspect that the statutes have been used by older people in areas where no birth records were kept. I used the procedure in my own case when I needed a work permit in high school. It was discovered that my birth certificate had not been registered. The physician who delivered me went on vacation immediately after my birth and simply forgot to record my birth with the Department of Health. The procedure is still used from time to time for this purpose.
